

CLIMECO6

Gadjah Mada University
Yogyakarta, Indonesia
1-8 August 2018

Interdisciplinary approaches for sustainable oceans

Human well-being in a changing marine social-ecological system
A public policy and management framework for the ecosystem services framework

Julián García Rodríguez | jgarcia@ceh.es | ORCID | Twitter

Context | General objective | Specific objectives | Research questions | Research methods | The People | Research outputs | Impact

Abstract
The marine social-ecological system (SES) is a complex system that involves the interactions between human and natural components. The SES is a dynamic system that evolves over time and space. The SES is a complex system that involves the interactions between human and natural components. The SES is a dynamic system that evolves over time and space. The SES is a complex system that involves the interactions between human and natural components. The SES is a dynamic system that evolves over time and space.